

ITIL[®] 5

Foundation

Course duration: 2 days

Overview

ITIL (Information Technology Infrastructure Library) is a globally recognised framework for managing digital products and services. Used by individuals and organisations worldwide, it brings together proven public and private sector practices to strengthen capability, performance and outcomes.

One framework. Clear pathways. Real business value.

Built for today’s digital-first, AI-enabled environment, ITIL provides practical guidance for managing products, services, customer experience and end-to-end operations. It gives leaders, teams and partners a shared language to align strategy, delivery and operations – while remaining adaptable and compatible with established ways of working.

As ITIL evolves, ITIL (Version 5) addresses a common challenge: products and services are often managed separately, creating silos and handoffs that reduce reliability and weaken the customer experience.

ITIL now unifies product and service management into a single lifecycle, linking business and technology to measurable outcomes. AI-ready by design, it supports responsible AI adoption through built-in governance and maintains a strong focus on experience and results – so organisations can deliver value with confidence.

Objectives

The objectives of this course are to:

- Build a solid understanding of digital product and service management and how value is co-created through products and services.
- Apply ITIL guiding principles and structural models to adopt and tailor service management in your organisation.
- Strengthen capability in value stream thinking, including mapping and managing value streams to improve flow and outcomes.
- Understand how AI influences modern service management, including the basics of AI governance, and how ITIL connects with complementary approaches such as PRINCE2® and DevOps. – Prepare for the ITIL Foundation (Version 5) exam

Key topics

Digital product and service management concepts

Understand the core concepts behind modern digital products and services, including value creation, continual improvement, and how products and services are managed across their lifecycle.

Value co-creation

Discover how value is co-created through collaboration between service providers, consumers, and stakeholders, while weighing outcomes, costs, risks, experience and sustainability.

The dimensions of product and service management

Delve into the four dimensions, Organisations and People, Value Streams and Processes, Information and Technology, and Partners and Suppliers, for a holistic approach to digital product and service management.

ITIL value system

Gain an understanding of the ITIL Value System and how it brings together guiding principles, governance, value chain activities, management practices, and continual improvement.

The ITIL guiding principles

Learn how to apply the framework's guiding principles to make better decisions, collaborate more effectively, and adapt ITIL practices to real-world digital environments.

The product and service lifecycle

Develop a solid understanding of the purpose of each product and service lifecycle management activity; from discovery and design to operation, delivery and support; and how they work together to create value.

ITIL's management practices

Explore the role of ITIL management practices and how official practice guides support consistent, effective ways of working across organisations.

Continual improvement

Learn how continual improvement is embedded within ITIL. Cover the continual improvement model's step-by-step approach and see how it supports long-term organisational success.

Value stream mapping and management

Understand how to identify, map, and manage value streams to improve flow, visibility, and outcomes across digital products and services.

Why learn with PM-Partners?

Because we turn your career goals into reality.

Poor project skills are consistently quoted as a key reason for project failure. To be successful in project delivery, it's critical to invest in yourself and the capabilities of your team. This means setting clear goals and making a commitment to continuous improvement.

Certification and training is a vital part of this journey. But you need to know which foot to put forward, and when, to ensure you're heading in the right direction. That's where our expert guidance and support comes in.

Tell us where you want to go

At PM-Partners we start every conversation with the question, 'Where are you trying to go?' We then apply our expertise to show you exactly 'how' to get there.

We believe that having the relevant skills and methodologies is critical to delivery success, and ultimately career success. Depending on your aims, our team of professional development consultants will work closely with you to create a development pathway, or team training program, that aligns with your goals.

Helping to develop professional capabilities for 25 years

Our accredited programs provide certification and development across a range of globally recognised project management and delivery streams.

Each year, our expert facilitators train and certify more than 12,000 people throughout Australia, New Zealand and South-East Asia to best practice standards. All highly qualified practitioners in their field, they draw from real-life scenarios and their own experience to add real value for individuals, teams and organisations.

Our promise to you

Customer story

Listen to Dominic Cain speak about how he went from being a young Chef to a Programme Director.

vimeo.com/pmpartners/customer-story

I have never been to a training session or course that has been this engaging. Thanks to Mark Plowman, he is extremely knowledgeable, well-articulated, gave many analogies and examples which was easy for me to understand and made the 2 days super fun with all his dad jokes. I would highly recommend everyone else to attend Mark's ITIL training.

Jessica Yan | ITIL Foundation

Mark was an excellent trainer who was very knowledgeable in the content area and other related areas as well.
